The first session focused on "Macro Economics - The Context" where the historical context of Sri Lanka's current economic position was briefly outlined, thereby laying the groundwork for a fruitful discussion on tax policies that will be better suited to fulfilling the government's goals. The second session on "Budget Proposals 2022 - Implementation" deliberated on how effectively the budget proposals have been implemented with a specific focus on how well these policies have been aligned with the government's economic objectives.

The third session on "Recent Tax Trends - The Local & the Global View" paid attention to the recent trends in the local and international tax arenas. The symposium concluded following the fourth session on "Chambers Discussion Forum - Way forward 2023 and beyond" where representatives from leading business associations and chambers came together to share their views and opinions on the present tax regime in the country and the changes that they would like to see in the tax policies in the future.
