

The Institute of Chartered Accountants of Sri Lanka (CA Sri Lanka) has organized a workshop focusing on risk management specifically targeting the country's business leaders including CFOs and General Managers.

The workshop titled 'Risk Management – Three lines of defence and a culture shift' on July 12th 2013 will give a global and local perspective on risk management including how risk management and the ownership of risk management has changed following global and local financial crises.

The workshop which is also open for Chief Risk Officers, Accountants, Financial analysts, Stock Market industrialists, Finance Managers, Auditors, Treasury officers, Leasing officers, Risk Analysts and Commercial Insurance professionals, will be conducted by Mr. Gavin D Rosairo, Chief Investment & Risk Officer of AIA Insurance Lanka PLC, who commands a wealth of experience spanning over 13 years from the capital markets and fund management industry.

During the workshop, participants will be educated on the 'three lines of defence' and how it supports stronger governance. The challenges in rolling out an organization wide risk management framework along with how to overcome these potential challenges will also be elucidated in detail by the resource person during the workshop.

The workshop will house a multitude of topical areas which will be covered by the resource person during an evening session, scheduled to be held at the Institute's Colombo 7 premises. The programme will also educate professionals on how to design and rollout a risk management framework, thereby ensuring long term success of an organisation.

In his current capacity, Rosairo leads the Investment and Risk functions of the Company and is responsible for AIA Sri Lanka's investment portfolios that exceed LKR 36 Billion.
